BLACKSBURG CHRISTIANBURG

VIRGINIA IS FOR LOVERS

downtownblacksburg.com/plan_your_trip

the heart of blacksburg

Rich in history, the community treasures several properties that are listed on the National Register of Historic Places and located in the original sixteen blocks of the incorporated town. Among them are nine historic properties, which the Town of Blacksburg has purchased and restored to public use. Historic walking tours are available through the Blacksburg Museum. www.blacksburg.gov/museum

The town and university are also host to numerous events and organizations which celebrate the rich Appalachian folk tradition of the region. The town has been a desirable destination since 1872, when William Addison Caldwell hiked nearly 28 miles along Sinking Creek in Craig County to become the first student to enroll in Blacksburg's new agricultural and mechanical college.

a special place—for over 200 years

Founded in 1798 at the fortunate confluence of three mountain springs, Blacksburg has grown into the largest town in Virginia. Home to Virginia Tech, it fosters world-class talents, enjoying state-of-the-art technology and services in a setting of legendary beauty. After 200 years, the health-giving waters that favored its founding still course through the town of Blacksburg, and the promise which drew early settlers to this mountain idyll still calls to modern adventurers. A visit to the historic tree-lined downtown offers opportunities to buy gourmet gadgets, unique and sweatshop-free clothing, or locally crafted pottery and jewelry. There's gear for skateboarding, mountain biking, game day, or a night on the town - all within walking distance. This is downtown the way it was meant to be.

The Lyric Theatre, established in the early 1900s and renovated in 1996, now operates as a not-for-profit to make the arts and community center and is listed on the Virginia and National Registers of Historic Places as a part of the Downtown Blacksburg Historic District.

"16 Frogs," a public art, environmental and history project!

The 16 Frogs project seeks to restore the health of Stroubles Creek, the broader watershed, and the water quality of downstream communities. The project involves the placement of 16 bronze frogs, modeled after a native green frog, in strategic sites representing an intersection of the Town's freshwater heritage with its history and culture. All the frogs are in their permanent homes, and programs are being developed for school-aged children and tour materials for all audiences. Follow the 16 Frogs story on Facebook and at www.16frogs.org.
